

SO...

THE QUESTION WAS:

To what extent does a teaching sequence support socio-spatial and ethical awareness in architecture students?

THE ANSWER IS:

By creating safer conditions for reflection when teaching socially sensitive housing briefs — particularly by reducing forced personal disclosure and enabling collective self-assessment rather than tutor correction.

AND THE TRUTH IS:

There is room for more ACTIONS